Commercial Repairs Site Expands

Effective April 1, 2003 Arrow Marine Services is expanding its services to the commercial fish boat, tugboat and barge market. To better handle the demands of the commercial market Arrow is dedicating more space for additional repair stalls, increasing its team of specialized tradespeople, and working harder to ensure the turn around time for vessels is reduced.

"Commercial vessels on dry land are not profitable for their owners. We understand the importance of getting these vessels back in the water as quickly as possible." says Brian Charles, Vice-President, Arrow Marine Services. "Our highly experienced service team is working hard to ensure each vessel receives quality attention."

Customer Focus - What's Happening in the Yard

K.G. Hodder
80' Tug

Bob Hodder of Hodder Tugboats christens the newest addition to his tugboat fleet. The vessel was re-named "K.G. Hodder". It was the former Elliot Straights. After sandblasting, a new paint job, and some mechanical work the tug was back in the water.

Foremost
58' Fish Boat

Owner Richie Shaw from Vancouver Island brought his fish boat in for fuel tank cleaning, anchor repairs, sandblasting and a new paint job. Arrow will also prepare his vessel for CSI inspection readiness.
